MAUA BANK,
101—103 CALLE CANGALLO

The Offices of this Bank having been removed to the above spacious building, in order to suit the increasing flow of business, the public is informed that the following transactions are carried on in currency and specie in this Bank:—

First—Bills and obligations with good signatures are discounted on conventional terms.

Second—Money is advanced on mercantile and other securities approved of by the Manager.

Third—Accounts current are opened with Merchants or other parties who may prefer depositing in stored and transferable securities, against which they may draw up to an amount previously convened under conditions established for such class of operations.

Fourth—Money is received in account current bearing interest from day of deposit, which is accumulated in favor of the parties every three months, the depositors being allowed to retire at any time, by means of cheques, part or the full amount at their wish, save when the quantity exceeds three hundred doubloons or one hundred thousand dollars currency in which case forty-eight hours' previous notice is required to be given at the Treasury of the Bank.

Fifth—Bills or letters of credit are drawn and taken on Montevideo, Rosario, Sta Fé, Salto Oriental, Paysandu, Rio Janeiro, and other places in the Brazils, England and France, as also on other places, of which notice will be given hereafter.

Finally, the Bank undertakes and executes all legitimate transactions within the orbit of banking operations.

The establishment is always open from 10 a.m. till 3 p.m.

A LUXURY.

Of all the accessories to the Toilet, none is more enjoyable than a rich fragrant perfume What can be more pleasing to the senses than the aroma of blooming flowers, and not only pleasing, but actually healthful? Pathologically the use of perfumes is exceedingly valuable, their well-known prophylactic properties exercise a most beneficial influence. To the invalid there is nothing more agreeable or refreshing than the Citrine odors of purely floral fragrance, avoiding always the heavy sweet perfumes of France and England, which are so apt to cloy and satiate the sense of smell, rather injuring than refreshing those persons of delicate organisation. In

FLORIDA WATER.

We have the pure and natural fragrance of flowers in bloom, unaltered and unimpaired by the addition of any foreign substances, and entirely free from the heavy sweetness above referred to. It is, we believe, the only perfume possessing, in a marked degree, the power of

REFRESHING AND INVIGORATING

Both the body and the mind. It is adapted equally for the Handkerchief, the Toilet, and the Bath. For the first-mentioned nothing can be more exquisitely delicate, yet full-bodied; weeks after sprinkling, the handkerchief is found to exhale a perfect wealth of delicious aroma. For the Toilet it is quite unequalled, a few spoonfuls mixed with the water in the basin tending greatly to soften and beautify the skin; and we believe it to be a Perfume suitable for use

IN THE BATH,

Where its wonderful refreshing and invigorating properties give it peculiar value. In some parts of the world it is customary to empty from three to six bottles into each bath: but this quantity is not necessary—from a half to a whole bottle will be found to produce the most delightful effect, filling the bath-room with clouds of fragrance, and imparting a delicious buoyancy to the fatigued body and mind.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

Always ask for the Florida Water, prepared by LANMAN and KEMP, New York, who are the sole Proprietors of the genuine article.

For Sale by all respectable Druggists, Perfumers, and Fancy Goods Dealers. | a22

SUBSCRIBED CAPITAL:
Hard Dollars, 3,014,940:64.
No. of Policies, .. 2,896 | Securities, $f1,315,157:02

It being an admitted fact, that "Money makes money," the object of LA BIENHECHORA could not be better, since it opens a vast Savings Bank for the surplus or savings of the Public, so that, by the proper employment of these small gains, a moderate capital, or even annuity, may be secured in a short time. By this means a provident, though helpless, family can husband their small means, and, in the end, attain a competency.

It being proved that the accumulation of interest is the most powerful means of augmenting the capital, THE BIENHECHORA DEL PLATA—an Argentine Company, whose only investments are in the country—holds out to Subscribers greater advantages than any other Institution, by reason of all its dealings being in the River Plate, where are current as large interests as in any part of the world.

THE BIENHECHORA DEL PLATA receives Deposits of from Five Patacones per Annum up to any amount in Weekly, Monthly, or Yearly Instalments.

The Postmaster-General of Her Majesty's Government has concluded a contract with the Liverpool, Brazil, and River Plate Steam Navigation Company, Limited (Messrs. Lamport and Holt's Line) for a second regular Mail in each month, by British Packet to Brazil and England.

The new Mail Steamers will leave Buenos Ayres on the 9th of each month, and are intended to proceed to Montevideo, Rio de Janeiro, and Bahia, and thence to Southampton and Liverpool.

The Service is so timed as to afford opportunity for letters received in England by the New Line, to be answered by the outward-bound Mail Steamer of the same Line, which leaves Liverpool on the 20th of each month (unless that be Monday, and then on the 21st.)

Neither consignees' despatches, nor letters of any kind can be received by us for conveyance by the Mail Steamer of the 9th.

Due Notice, respecting the posting of letters, will be issued by the Post-office authorities.

MONTEVIDEO.

ANTIGUA FOTOGRAFIA.

BATEY CA.

MONTEVIDEO.

This popular Establishment continues to maintain its well-earned reputation of being the first Photographic and Fine Art Gallery in the River Plate. Its Proprietor, during a recent visit to Europe and North America, has spared no effort or expense to secure the best artistic skill, and the latest and most approved inventions applicable to the art.

The new building, in Calle 33, is modelled on the celebrated Rentlenger Studio in Paris, and combines all the modern improvements and latest inventions of the day.

PHOTO-DRAWINGS.

This new style of picture, introduced by Mr. S. L. Reignolds, of London, makes the finest and most effective style of Portrait known at the present day. Their purity of colouring and delicacy of tone is such, that some of the first English artists have been unable to determine whether they are Photographs, or simply and purely Water Color Drawings. The process is peculiarly applicable to the reproduction and enlargement of Card Photographs, enabling the artist to introduce accessories and backgrounds, change dresses, or alter figures; and, in fact, to make a harmonious portrait, which will be a 'Picture' on which the eye rests with pleasure, as well as a faithful likeness.

THE PORCELAIN PICTURE.

All styles and sizes, plain and colored, of this popular novelty, in prices ranging from five to twenty-five patacons each.

MISS. PORTER.

In giving publicity to the letters subjoined we consult both our inclination and duty by making a few remarks, not that the documents in question have the least political importance, but there is a romance in the story which requires explanation.

We live in a material age when the price of goods or gains by barter have a higher importance than the half dreamy letters of poetic school girls, but it is not for this that we are a better or a wiser people. Few there are of us who ignore all sentimentality. The days may be gone "when beauty bright our heart's chain wove," but woman and her struggles have an interest for us all, and we willingly forget the insipid stuff of Argentine politics to turn to a correspondence which might be made the subject of a novel.

That even in the decline of life friendships too romantic to last may be oftentimes formed is attested by these letters; yet there is something so disinterested and noble in a man of high position taking a lively interest in the struggles and troubles of a poor lone girl, a perfect stranger who far away from her native land, toils to support her aged parents and younger brothers and sisters, that we feel in giving the correspondence to the public we pay a tribute of justice to his character.

Firmly do we believe that in all his noon of fame President Sarmiento, has never tasted of a sweeter joy than the consciousness of having befriended a young and artless girl. The facts, as supplied to us by a mutual friend, remove the idea that either the hero or the heroine have been under the influence of what Mrs. Yelverton would call the 'odic power.' We narrate the story as it has been given to us.

During his voyage from the United States, Mr. Sarmiento, then candidate for the Presidency, remarked with interest a young lady who dined at the second table, and he learned that she belonged to a family emigrating to Rio de Janeiro, composed of an old man over sixty years of age, his wife and five young children. They had been wealthy slave owners, whom the war had completely ruined, and this energetic slave owner, detesting the victorious Yankees, was coming to reside in Brazil, a slave country, in the hope of making another fortune. Sarmiento overheard him saying "I do not feel the slightest anxiety about the children's education, Laura knows more than all the colleges together, and she will teach them." This was enough to induce Mr. Sarmiento, to strike up an acquaintance, which is not a difficult matter on board a steamer.

Nature had not been lavish of her gifts to her, but the calm and serene dignity of her countenance gave indications of a cultivated intellect and a noble character. She showed him several of her poetical compositions of great merit, and he in exchange made her a present of a copy of his work Civilizacion y Barbarie, lately translated into English. A friendship was thus established, and on parting Mr. Sarmiento begged her to write to him.

She did so to congratulate him on his elevation to the Presidency, in a letter that was so beautiful that to show it to his friends he carried it in his pocket till he lost it, and with it her address. A year elapsed and the President, distressed at the idea that she might think his high position had made him forget his humble friend, immediately wrote to her addressing his letter to Laura Parker, under cover to General Pannero, Argentine Minister in Rio, recommending the latter to endeavour to find her out. There was no Laura Parker, and the Anglo Brazilian Times in vain advertised for her, until Laura Porter replied from the Province of São Paulo, stating that she had come from the United States in the same steamer with the actual President of the Argentine Republic. The copy of the President's first letter has been lost, but we here give that of Laura Porter's with the President's reply—

Campinas, Province Sao. Paulo, Brazil, March 23rd 1870.

Most esteemed and excellent Friend,

I am unable to express my gratification at the honor you have done me by writing the very kind letter before me. The fruitless waiting for more than a year for a reply to my first is amply compensated for by the assurance that I have been held in remembrance so long by you, when your mind has been burdened by the cares incident to your exalted position, which, I am sure, have been enough to obliterate all recollection of one, who had no greater claim, than I, upon your memory. Attributing always your silence to this cause, I did not once doubt the sincerity of your friendship, yet lamented the more, that circumstances deprived me of expressions of friendship from so great and good a man. I was not forgetful of you; your career in a hitherto turbulent government has engaged my most earnest attention, and with exultant pride I have read chronicles of your success in measures for the advancement of your people. At last the world is rewarding you for years of patient toil, and atoning for years of suffering exile. Yet these honors the world bestows cannot equal the happy consciousness of having done so much good; the peaceful contentment of your people is the truest testimony that your goodness is your greatness. No one can more sincerely wish for those years of prosperity to which you look forward than I, and I add, may they be many. Your liberal scheme of immigration should make blush your Imperial neighbor: Here, although the general government makes a show of offering inducements to immigrants, it really prevents them coming; for there is direct opposition to expending money for the introduction of a population, industrious, intelligent and peaceable, whose labor will, in two or three years more than refund the expenditure, by increasing the revenue in a ratio before unknown in this country. While this is the case with the General Government the Assembly of this province is well aware of the inestimable advantage of immigration. Already has it made acknowledgement of the increased revenue consequent upon the American system of agriculture established in a few communities adjacent to this city; they confess the examples of industry and thrift have stimulated the inert unprogressive Brazilians, thereby rendering the country and people a service. There are no regularly established colonies of Americans in Brazil, at least in this province; yet the widely separated communities are prosperous, and content prevails. Social and political disorderss till existing in the Southern United States are causing many to wish to seek other governments, but no regular and effective means are used to turn the tide hither, and I doubt not many will eventually find homes in your country.

You ask so kindly of our position and prospects, that I feel I confide them to a truly good friend. Since I saw you, misfortunes the most crushing have fallen upon us, but without vanity, I assure you we have borne them bravely. You must have seen, during our voyage together the declining of my dear father's health. After landing it declined rapidly, until, at the end of three months, he died. Your own misfortunes can give you intuitive perception of the overwhelming weight of this sorrow to our poor hearts—I could not portray it. Nor was this bitter grief all; our long stay in Rio and my poor father's illness nearly exhausted our means, which, at best, was the remnant gathered after the wreck of our country. However, we did not yield to despair, but resolved each to do something for the support of the family. God, into whose care our dying father had committed us, sent to us the best of friends who aided us in our efforts to make an independent support, and through the kindness of one noble man we were given a home on his estate in this province; however, knowing him to be in embarrassed circumstances we preferred depending on our own efforts; and, hearing of an opening in this city for a boarding house for Americans, my mother came here and embarked at once in the enterprise.

I found a few persons who wished to be taught English, and thus we began, earning little by little, yet all the while maintaining the family in respectability and comparative comfort. The little children have acted nobly. Having no servant, domestic duties are heavy, but each has a part to perform which is done with alacrity and cheerfulness. All inclination to idleness or play, so natural to children, is put aside by them as if they comprehended the necessity for labor. Even the little boy just ten years old seems to think there is work for his baby hands which he energetically looks for the livelong day. But best of all in these dear children is that they find time, notwithstanding so much work, to improve their minds by application to books, and many times this is done at night.

You will pardon a sister's honest pride in thus speaking of the little ones, but to see them act as if they had the incentive of our dear dead father's approval ever before them is quite enough to excite this pride, you will admit. The only painful thing, except the loss of our father, connected with our circumstances is the fact that our mother must, instead of spending her years of decline in peaceful rest, labour with us; however, I have great hope that we can make her truly comfortable and supercede the necessity. No word of complaint is ever heard among us against the fate that has reduced us, but cheerfully we spend the days and look hopefully to the future, trusting that all our labor will not be in vain. I ask pardon for abusing your invitation to tell you, as a good friend, of our personal concerns, but the open sincerity and heartfelt goodness of your letter tempted me irresistibly. I know that you will rejoice with me that these dark days of adversity are brightening, and that we are surrounded by many comforts, the fruits of our own labor. My teaching brings a handsome little increase to the family fund, which is the happiest achievement of my life.

Already you know my earnest desire for the fullest fruition of your hopes, and I trust you may be given many years of uninterrupted peace and prosperity. Your letter gives me and the whole family so much unfeigned pleasure, that I beg of you, at your earliest convenience, another: they are light in our little household.

Trusting that you will forgive this infliction upon you, and hoping soon to receive assurances of your forgiveness.

I remain,

Your grateful sincere friend,

LAURA M. PORTER.

Buenos Ayres, 1870.

My esteemed and dear friend,

Your letter of the 23rd March has occasioned me solemn, sad, and placid moments. Poor girl! So great a misfortune; and so well endured! I congratulate you. What you have done, with so small means, and in so humble a sphere is more laudable and greater than what I, in so exalted a position, do, conceive, or carry into execution. Many in similar circumstances would do as I do. It is a programme that presents itself ready traced to every man who has not remained behind the movement of the age. Very few in your position would have acted as you have. Accept this compliment as a sincere one; and if my letters are a comfort, an incentive, and a satisfaction, get the children together and read them to them; tell them that a President, in the midst of the cares of state and an all engrossing civil war, devotes an hour to show them that great friends may be had even in such situations as theirs. There has been something strange, something affectionate in my anxious remembrance of the good girl that I knew by chance on board. As President, and whatever else you like, I did not wish that the girl, whom I was never to see, should judge ill of me, so I wrote to her, sought her out, and at length found her. Was it that my heart told me that something was happening to her? That she claimed to know whether she had a friend?

The strangeness of these facts does not rest here. So beautiful and noble did the account you gave me in your March letter appear to me, that I sent its original to San Juan, to a niece who knows English, thinking that its perusal would delight her. Well, 15 days after, her father died here suddenly, and on me fell the sad duty of imparting the fatal news to her.

What comfort can be afforded to an orphan daughter? I found one, a sure one, at hand. 'Read Laura Porter's letters, and, like her take courage and be resigned!' See, from her answer, the effects of the balm that was contained in your letter for hearts stricken by family misfortunes.

San Juan, April 29th.

'I have waited some days, endeavouring to quiet myself in order to imitate our dear and admirable Laura in her nobility of soul; I am sorry to confess that I have not resembled her in all. Nevertheless I have mastered myself to a certain degree, not only for the sake of my poor sick Fina, but also to follow your advice.'..... 'As yet I have not spoken to her of Laura's letter, with which, on the eve of my misfortune, I was so pleased. I cannot account for your having sent it to me.

'Whilst conversing with Fina that evening, I said to her while translating it: 'I wish to be like Laura; but I cannot say, as she can, that she has the happiness of helping her mother in the last years of her life, for I on the contrary think only of myself. Really, that letter did me a great deal of good, for I was sad at not being able to go on with my studies in English and other languages, and could not resign myself to solely continuing music. Your thought of sending it to me was so happy, that I do not know how to thank you for such a distinction. I now return it to you after having taken a copy of and translated it.....'

So you see, my poor friend, that from the centre of the tropics, where you think yourself in obscurity, rays of sympathy vibrate, touch a heart on the banks of the Plata, and, at the foot of the Andes, find their echo in another desolate bosom that already loves you, though it may not know you.

You would do well to write to her and cultivate her friendship. The gain would be all her's, although the satisfaction might be mutual and mine also. You will oblige her to write English, and with that alone you will do her a kindness; without thinking, you will afford her models of style, example of virtue, perhaps help her to improve an understanding that is not of a limited kind. Describe to her, for instance, the natural aspect around São Paulo, and with that and your intercourse, you will have made her happy. Her address is: San Juan, República Argentina.

I will shortly send her a copy of the beautiful verses you presented me on my birthday, the 4th of August, at 30° lat. N. I must, confess that I made a present of them, with the diary of the voyage in which you wrote them.

You have, indeed, a chain of friends and admirers, who contemplate you, whilst they love and bless you. Do you desire more than this? Write to me with an enclosure for your friend in San Juan, and in your hours of trial, ever count on the high esteem of

Your affectionate friend,

DOMINGO F. SARMIENTO.

INTERESTING PARTICULARS OF THE DEATH OF GEN. URQUIZA.

A friend from Entre Rios has favored us with the following particulars, not generally known, respecting the assassination of General Urquiza.—

The day previous to that melancholy event the chief of the party who attacked San José galloped his men across Entre Rios and halted at night time on the banks of an arroyo, where they passed the night. At daybreak he discovered that he was short two men, who had evidently decamped during the night: and it was supposed with the intention of warning General Urquiza; the conspirators therefore advanced with the greatest caution, and at about midday they halted in a wood which skirted the road that led to Urquiza's palace. Hiding themselves and their horses amongst the trees they held a council as to what it was best to do; the majority were for dispersing, as they all had a conviction that they had been betrayed by the two men who had left in the night. Whilst arranging where to fly to, a chasque passed; he was at once stopped, taken into the wood and interrogated. On being asked what news at San José, he stated that there was nothing particular, that there were no strangers there, but that a large number of guests were expected from Buenos Ayres in a few days; that the only soldiers on guard were twenty-five, four of whom acted as sentries during the night, the rest of them being encamped some squares from the palace; that General Urquiza had been busy all that morning with the Minister of Government; that no chasque had arrived from Concepcion of Concordia during the night or morning; and that, in a word, everything was going on as usual at San José. The chasque was then tied down and placed under a tree; his despatches were taken from him and opened; they were every way unimportant, being about some local matters in Gualeguaychu. Another council was then held in the wood, and all agreed that there was no cause for alarm, and that they should at once push ahead to carry out their murderous design, it being essential that there should not be a moment's delay, as if they postponed it to another day General Urquiza would be put on his guard by the events that were then transpiring in Concordia; they 'carnear'd' in the wood; roasted some beef and had 'mate.'

In the afternoon they advanced on San José, and arrived about twilight; there were the two sentries at the palace, the rest of the guard being about five squares off. These sentries were not killed, but at once disarmed, and General Urquiza was in the act of crossing from the gardens into the house when he saw the group of men outside of the gateway, who at once rushed in, shouting "Muera el traidor Urquiza!" The General did not lose his presence of mind, but hastened into the inner courtyard, where seeing his wife and daughter, he told them to go fetch him his arms, and this error cost him his life, for our informant states that had he, instead of waiting for those arms, rushed up-stairs and gained the 'mirador,' locked the door after him, and then ascended the spiral staircase, also locking the door on the stairs, sufficient time would have been allowed for his servants and followers to have come to his assistance, and the conspirators would have been obliged to retire.

It is a noteworthy circumstance that two of the assassins had but the week previously called on the General about business matters. They received from the General power to purchase cattle in Corrientes for his saladero, alleging that the flocks of sheep that they had were unable to support them, and that by buying cattle on commission they might be able to earn something more. The General not only gave them the order to buy the cattle, but also 1000 bolivianos each, to pay for peons and other expenses; all which moneys were employed by the conspirators to further their cause and murder their benefactor.

Had the chasque not passed by in the morning General Urquiza would be probably alive this day, as the conspirators would have dispersed, and that night the General would have received the news of the murder of his two sons in Concordia; but destiny so willed it, and the poor gaucho chasque to Gualeguaychu sealed the fate of General Urquiza.

ANOTHER EDITORIAL VICTORY.

From our own special sources of information, we are enabled to lay before our readers of this day's issue, the salient features of the annual report which will have been presented, at the commencement of the present month, by the Directors in London, to the proprietary of the Liebig Extract of meat Company.

The establishment at Fray Bentos is working in the most satisfactory manner, fully realizing the expectations originally entertained, the machinery in perfect order, the producing capacity when in full work requiring 120,000 head of cattle. The buildings in progress last year, comprising dwellings for the artizans and laborers, fencing in the entire property, large store, Manager's residence, railway, enlargement of the first mole, erection of a second, are all now completed; the two latter affording facilities for discharging and loading unparalleled in any other section of the Plate, and its tributaries.

The enterprise has now reached that stage of its development, that further expansion is being given to carry out the original intention formed at its inception, namely the utilization of animal refuse, which hitherto as a Platine staple has been valueless and an incumbrance. To this end, machinery is already on the way from Europe, and at no distant period 'Animal Guano' will figure as an export from Fray Bentos. The Company at the International Exhibition at Amsterdam last year, obtained the 'Grand Diploma d'honneur,' the highest distinction; which added to their previous victories achieved in two gold medals at the Paris Exhibition in 1867, and the gold medal at Havre in 1868, demonstrate irrefutably the incontestible superiority of their xtrEact over all others, whether from these countries or the British colonies, which competed at these several world fairs, and so firmly established its reputation as to obviate the necessity and advisability of exposition at any other exhibition held in 1869. During that year the Company received the entire cargoes of 27 ships from Europe; these consisted mainly of coals, salt, wood, building materials, machinery etc cand despatched with return cargoes 26 vessels laden with 88,000 hides, 4,000 pipes tallow, 2,000 tons bones and ash and jerked beef as 'Saladero' produce, irrespective of the Extract of Meat, which for the most part went forward by steamers.

The payments of the calls made last year on all the shares issued were effected with the greatest regularity, and will, doubtless, prove most beneficial to the company in consolidating its working capital, at present standing at £11,200, a figure the Directors are not only determined to maintain, but gradually to augment so as to provide for the requirements a progresive extension of the Company's business is sure to entail, leading to increasing prosperity.

On these grounds, the Directors propose not to distribute the whole of last year's Profits, but to write off £14,000 from cost of buildings and plant, and carry £7,000, to reserve fund, and divide 1s 3d per share as interest and bonus. This dealing with last year's profits would leave an unappropriated balance of about £3,000, to be carried forward to the credit of profit and account loss new for the current year.

This statement will, doubtless, prove interesting not only to shareholders resident in the Plate, but also to the general public, having the progress and welfare of these countries of our adoption truly at heart. To ourselves it is most satisfactory, that we are the heralds of this intelligence and the more so, when we bear in mind what Fray Bentos was prior to the introduction of European capital, enterprise, intelligence and skill.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The intelligence of the sacking of Pando by the revolutionary bands under Aparicio, in the Banda Oriental, has caused much anxiety as to the ultimate result of the disturbances that have prevailed in that country for the last few months. It is astonishing that the rebel chief has not only been able to evade the various divisions of Government troops sent into the field against him, but has succeeded in approaching to within such a very short distance of the capital. Bustamante, who is in point of fact the only energetic or capable man in the Oriental Cabinet, left Montevideo at once with a small force to meet the revolutionists, but it is probable they had, as usual, vanished before he could come up with them. There was no steamer from the sister republic yesterday, and telegraphic advices are, as usual, meagre. It is clear to all thinking men that, if the Aparicio 'emeute' is to be even temporarily suppressed, greater and better organized efforts must be used by the authorities.

We hear with great pleasure that Dr. Carril, who has since the death of the late President of the Supreme Court, Dr. Carreras, so ably filled that post 'ad interim,' will in all probability be named to succeed the late distinguished judge. The well-earned character for learning and an impartial discharge of his official duties enjoyed by Dr. Carril, together with the high social position he occupies, peculiarly fit him for this most responsible post, and his appointment thereto would be looked on with the greatest satisfaction by the Bench, the Bar and the public.

We received yesterday, through our friend Mr. George Wilks, very serious and alarming news from the South. At Quilmes, along the coast, and indeed throughout most of the southern partidos, a disease of a virulent character has broken out amongst the horned cattle, tame animals, such as milch cows and bullocks, being peculiarly liable to its attacks. The disease is similar to that known at home as 'surfeit' and produces the following symptoms:—Froth and slime from the mouth, which is quickly covered with blisters, the skin from the tongue peeling off when they burst, flanks drawn, hair standing, and chill; the disease then goes to the feet, the hoofs falling off in bad cases. The disease is contagious and troops are suddenly attacked with it on the road. Mr. Wilks considers it akin to rinderpest, though it fortunately attacks local instead of vital parts. It is said that several people at Quilmes have been attacked with blisters in the mouth through drinking milk from infected cows. It is, we trust, unnecessary to remind the Government of the necessity of immediate action. There are some very competent veterinary surgeons now in the country, and their opinion should be at once taken, to prevent the disease spreading or the introduction of infected meat into the city markets. We may add that Mr. Wilks, who is a man of vast experience, does not consider the disease fatal, if taken in time.

The French Imperial mail steamer Sinah will leave to-morrow in the afternoon for Europe. Letters can be posted at the French Consulate till twelve o'clock p.m. Messrs. Yfernet, Calle Mayo, receive letters till one o'clock.

We call the attention of those of our readers who have followed the late war in Paraguay through all its phases, to the declarations of General Resquin, continued in this issue. They will tend to upset many views hitherto accepted of this dismal South American story.

An immense number of robberies were committed during the fetes on the 25th. The burglars and pickpockets made the most of their time, the former in ill-guarded houses during the absence of the inmates at the Plaza, where the light-fingered brethren relieved the citizens of ther chains and watches to an unprecedented extent. All the English being at the sports at Palermo very few British chronometers are missing.

We had a visit yesterday from Dr. Skinner, who we are happy to say has quite recovered from his late sufferings in Paraguay. He informs us that things are in a miserable state there still. Many of the captives that escaped from the hands of Lopez perished afterwards by la mine, while strange to say, hundreds died from repletion, to such a state had they been reduced by their previous sufferings.

Mr. Holtzweissig, the well-known photographer in Bond-street, favoured us yesterday with another portrait of the late Dr. Reid, cabinet size, as also two capitally taken groups of the leading beauties at the late Bazaar. He has a large supply of both on hands at his studio opposite the Standard office.

We understand that Mr. and Mrs. Heine will take their departure from amongst us on the 10th prox. They go in the next English packet to Rio, where they intend giving a series of their attractive concerts.

Lucrezia Borgia, with Madame Gasc as the heroine and Zacconi as Maffio Orsini, is announced for to-night at the Opera House. The theatre will be full, weather permitting.

If Lopez Jordan should fall back on Corrientes, as it is rumoured he contemplates, it will be a case of "out of the frying-pan into the fire" with him. It has rained there uninterruptedly for a fortnight, and the whole province is so covered with water that the maintaining or supplying of even the smallest army is at present impossible.

We understand that Dr. Stuart, of Paraguayan celebrity, is about to return to the River Plate. It is reported he has reached Rio.

A Paraguayan sailor attached to the Port Captain's service won the suit of clothes and $1000 note given as a prize for climbing the greased pole during the May fêtes.

The total arrivals of European immigrants here since the 1st of January reach 11,000 souls; this is a considerable falling off, and it would be of interest to ascertain the cause of it. The rush to the U. States increases steadily the while.

The Chilian mails brought the intelligence that the Indians are giving the Government of that republic some trouble, a horde of 3,000 of them well mounted and armed having appeared at Malleco, where they have cut off the garrisons and invested the forts.

The STANDARD Sweepstakes are becoming daily more popular. On Friday the rush to our office for tickets equalled the palmiest days of the Fulton Mendez Corkscrew furore. One of our agents alone sold 59 tickets on Thursday. The distribution takes place on the 9th of June, so parties desirous of a chance had better apply at once.

Dr. Velez Sarsfield resumes his official duties as Minister of the Interior to-morrow. We salute the Prime Minister on his return to the metropolis, and congratulate H.E. on the manner in which the important mission to Cordoba confided to him by the President has been fulfilled.

Nothing whatever has as yet been done towards repairing the mole, notwithstanding the frequent accidents occurring on it, and the just complaints of the press and the public. The sooner the Accidental Death Insurance Co. lately proposed to be established near the 'octroi' office at the entrance is started the better; it is sure to do a roaring trade.

We regret extremely to announce that the President of the Republic is confined to bed from the effects of a sore throat caught during the May fêtes. We trust that H.E. will be speedily restored. We understand diptheria is at present very prevalent in all quarters of the city, caused, say the medical men, by the late extreme variations in the temperature.

We regret to announce the death of an old and highly respected English resident, Mr. David Fleming, whose funeral took place yesterday and was most numerously attended. During the 'reign of terror' under Rosas Mr. Fleming rendered invaluable service to many Argentine families, whose members he assisted to escape from the savage political persecution of the times.

We regret to hear that the Rev. Mr. Gibby, the respected chaplain at Quilmes, is indisposed and suffering from an attack of bronchitis. We hope that his recovery may be speedy.

The weather was in every sense abominable yesterday; damp, darkness and cold prevailed: many of the streets were of course impassable from mud, and general discomfort existed. People breakfasted, worked, lunched and dined by gaslight, and the day was rendered still duller by a total absence of news from any quarter.

The patio of our office now offers one of the most attractive lounges in town. Mons. Coulin has beaten our distinguished countryman Dr. Sarsfield hollow; the Government House is no where. Mons. Coulin has the richest collection of flowers in town; his Standard roses are naturally the finest in the country.

As we anticipated, the tramways have ruined the hackney coach business: nobody takes a carriage now, it has become quite unfashionable. Sr. Cabral, the well known job-carriage man, informed us yesterday that the trade does not pay for hay for the horses now; "chacun á son tour;" tramways are up and coaches down.

We hear that Mr. Billingburst's tramway will be thrown open to the public in a few days; it ought to do the best carrying trade in town, as it runs through the most populous parts of the city and is splendidly constructed.

The latest building and house intelligence is as follows:—The house at the corner of Piedad and Paseo Julio will shortly be pulled down and a magnificent pile with 'recoba' erected on the site. The Cafe Catalan is at last, we believe, to be brought to the hammer, and will, it is expected, fetch a fabulous sum. The new warehouse at the corner of 25 de Mayo and Cuyo, belonging to Messrs. Corti/Riva, is the first in the city that has been built with iron rafters and floors. It is a splendid edifice, and brings to mind the palaces of its kind so common in the United Kingdom.

We received yesterday a letter on the creditable way the employees of the Southern Railway acquitted themselves as competitors at the Athletic Sports. We are obliged to hold it over till our next issue,

In reference to the Melrose scandal we learn that Melrose, alias James Hume Wright, is now at Rio Janeyro and will probably remain in Brazil. There has been for some time a reward of £200 for his arrest for embezzlement committed by him in Scotland, A police agent came out recently for his apprehension,, although we believe there is no extradition treaty. It happened about the same time that a gentleman who had known him at home, saw him at a coffee-house in Rosario and remarked 'there goes that fellow Wright' to which he was told in reply 'you are mistaken' that is Steamplough Melrose,' The other insisted that the party in question was an outlaw named Wright and that a reward was offered for his apprehension. This conversation probably came to the hearing of Melrose, and it is stated that he also received intimation of a similar kind at Montevideo, which obliged him to abscond. It is not thought that he takes much money with him, and he has sent back some important papers belonging to third parties; it seems the Frayle Muerto lands are mostly in Mr. Purdie's name, and will cover much of the loss that would otherwise ensue. In this case it seems probable that Mr. Henley's enterprise will not be affected by the flight of Melrose.

The Lujan coming down from Rosario on Wednesday carried the American flag at the fore, in compliment to the Hon. Mr. Kirk; our brother-editor and his wife were also among the passengers and speak in the highest terms of Captain Houghton and his steamer. The River Plate can boast much finer and more commodious passenger steamers than on the well-known routes of Dover to Calais, London to Antwerp, Dieppe to Newhaven, &c. There is only one thing to exceed the comfort of such vessels as the Capitan and Lujan; it is the good-humored kindness of Commodore Davis and Captain Houghton to all the passengers; and the cuisine on board these boats is something admirable. Capt. Bruce is gone home to build another fast sailing vessel (screw) for the line, and tells us he expects to be back by August 6th.

The National engineers are now at work on the surveys from Villa Nueva to Rio Cuarto, and this line will be a feeder to the Central Argentine, for the trade of the Cuyo Provinces.

Mr. Wheelwright had serious intentions of journeying to Tucuman to examine the proposed route of the line which Mr. Brassey is likely to take in hands from Cordoba thither. We trust, however, that Mr. W. will forego so arduous a journey and consult his health rather by returning to Europe to take a timely rest after his seven years' labors. The presents given to him by the Bishop and leading people of Cordoba comprise a great variety of things. In return he gave the Bishop for the charitable institutions of Cordoba the sum of 1,000 Bolivian dollars (£160).

Mr. and Mrs. Consul Hutchinson are at present spending a few days in the Sierras of Cordoba.

An Englishman named Diamond, said to be of good family, shot an old English resident the other day at Cordoba, while the former was in a state of 'delirium tremens.'

The robbery at Dr. Sarsfield's was committed in the following manner. The robber was a servant of the Minister's; he went into the study, but a knock coming at the hall-door the thief had only time to snatch up two bundles like notes which he felt in the dark; one proved to be 100,000 Bonds, the other a parcel of notes, $14,000 m|c. On answering the door he met an old lady who asked him why he had kept her so long waiting; he did not answer, but bolted past her and escaped.

For the first time we have to note a burglary at Belgrano, on Tuesday night at Don Viera Belen's quinta there, at which his daughter, lately married, and her husband were spending the honeymoon. All the lady's jewels and wedding presents were taken. The burglars then paid a visit to Mrs. Mullins' house, but the inmates were astir and the mid.ight visitors decamped.

LATEST FROM ENTRE-RIOS.

Paraná, May 23rd.

At 2 o'clock on the morning of the 20th this town was attacked by a band of 200 gauchos under the well-known Chumbito whose proper name is Geronimo Romero: they rushed into the town in 3 bodies, one by Calle Ramirez, another by Calle Urquiza, a third by Calle Industria, meeting in the principal Plaza. They were at once valiantly assailed by the Santa Fé infantry who drove them out at the point of the bayonet. Nothing could exceed the alarm of the townsfolk till the marauders were expelled. A sergeant of the Santa Fé infantry was slightly wounded: the invaders left 4 men behind them, but took away several of their number wounded. Capt. Nasquez has just returned, after having pursued the enemy a distance of 3 leagues.

Concepcion, May 24th.

Some cavalry forces of Lopez Jordan's came to besiege the town and Col. Elia at once took active measures for its defence. Luckily the arrival of Major Castro's. Nat. Guards from Buenos Ayres so strengthened our garrison that we ventured to attack the enemy and put them to flight: they left some killed and wounded on the field

Gualeguaychú 25th.

Conesa's victory over the rebels has probably obliged them to recross the Gualeguay and fall back on Calá. Almada's forces have suddenly disappeared. Lopez Jordan may still muster 3,000 men, but he has neither infantry nor artillery and his cavalry is badly armed and worse disciplined, quite unfit to risk a pitched battle. It is likely he will sooner or later fall back on the forest of Montil and try to hold out for some time in the wild country between Concordia and Corrientes frontier. But if General Gelly-Obes comes down quickly on the Mocorotá this will oblige the rebel General to give in. Gen. Mitre's army will now be ready to continue its march as Fernandez has procured a fresh supply of horses. Major Gonzalez has been all over the department of the Gualeguaychú and found no rebel forces. Col. Barragan and most of his men have come over from Almada to join Mitre. Don Apolinario Benitez is spoken of as candidate for Governor of Entre Rios. The rebels have murdered at San Antonio a poor old man named Hilarion Poucel and sacked his shop: deceased was brother to the late French Consul, Benjamin Poucel, who published some works on South America. Lopez Jordan cannot possibly hold his ground in the south of this province, as the Nat. troops occupy both Gualeguaychú and Concepcion and the advance of both Conesa's and Mitre's armies will hem him in, unless he escapes betimes north of the Gualeguay river, where the woods and rivers will afford him protection for a time.—Verdad.

GEN. RESQUIN'S DECLARATION.

Lopez had prepared to contest the passage of the Paraua with the Allies, and drew up his forces in front of Itapirú, where he prepared forces to engage them at the moment of disembarking, but the Brazilian forces, having disembarked a good way below that point, that plan was frustrated; and only on the following day, the 17th of April, 1866, Lopez sent some battalions of infantry and regiments of cavalry (a small force,) with two pieces of artillery to await the Brazilian column in the narrow tongue of land which goes to Itapirú. The Paraguayan cavalry and infantry dispersed, and the artillery was taken. That same night the Paraguayans abandoned Itapirú, and went to encamp in the Paso de la Patria, leaving some scouts behind to observe Itapirú.

The Paso de la Patria was entrenched, but notwithstanding that the treach was occupied by 24,000 men, it was judged too extensive, and as it might also be flanked by disembarking forces in the River Paraguay below Lake Piris—an operation which would cut off the retreat of the Paraguayan army—Lopez resolved to abandon that position.

He declared that the attack of the 2nd of May, as well as that of Corrales, was occasioned by the desire which Lopez had of exercising his forces in small combats, for he was aware that General Mitre wished to avoid them. He also wished to feel the allied forces, and to see if by surprising the advanced guard he could obtain some prisoners who might enlighten him in respect to the number of those forces, for he was ignorant of it.

To Corrales he sent 400 men, and afterwards a reinforcement of more than 1,000, which only took part in the end of the fight at the disembarking. The Paraguayans between killed and wounded lost 300 in that fight.

The fight of the 2nd of May was made by 3,500 men; besides that force there was some infantry and 8 pieces of artillery in reserve on the Estero Bellaco to protect the retreat of the attacking column. The infantry that attacked was commanded by Lieut.-Colonel Dias, who advised the attack; the cavalry by Commandant Benites, who died in the action.

The Paraguayan column lost four pieces which it brought into the fight and carried off other four which were in the Brazilian vanguard, under the command of General Flores, who was taken by surprise. The total loss is not known, but it is affirmed that in the Estero Bellaco alone, where the fight took place, the Paraguayans left 250 dead, counted after the Brazilians had retired to their encampment. He ignores the total loss, because Lieut.-Colonel Dias gave account of it to Lopez direct. All the Paragnayan army put itself in movement, for the whole situation took the appearance of a total loss, and he believed that not even the reserve would be able to retire. As to the attacking columns, these were completely routed, the troops returning in groups of ten and twelve.

The allies, however, after having passed some battalions over the Estero Bellaco recrossed it, and possessors of the field of battle, returned to their encampments.

On the 2nd of May the Paraguayan army, which, leaving the Paso de la Patria, went to encamp beyond the Estero Bellaco, where it remained four days, was now beyond Estero Rojas, which it afterwards commenced to cover with trenches, for until then none existed.

He declared, moreover, that on the 23rd of May Lopez assembled his principal chiefs and told them, that having understood that on the 25th the allied army would attack his trenches, scarcely defended with field pieces, and not having sufficient confidence in them, nor in the firmness and instruction of his soldiers and chiefs, he would like to attack the allies by surprise by making a species of sortie.

Lopez had then in the encampment of Rojas 24,000 men, of whom 2,500 were sick. He disposed of 16,000 or 17,000 men in three attacking columns; one of the left composed of eight regiments of cavalry and two battalions of infantry with two rocket parties amounting in all to 5,000 men under the command of the deponent. This was the force which attacked the Argentine army and part of the Brazilian vanguard. The column of the centre with 7,000 men having four regiments of cavalry and some field pieces, was under the command of the then Colonel Diaz. The third and right with 4,000 to 5,000 men, among whom was hardly a squadron of cavalry, was commanded by General Barrios. The two last attacked the Brazilian army. The centre column had a support of four battalions more, with a total of 4,000 men, forming a reserve, which was seriously engaged after the action commenced. The remainder formed a second line which protected the retreat of the attacking columns.

The attacking columns suffered enormously; their loss in dead and wounded amounted to 12,000, rather more than less.

The rout was complete. That night Lopez caused four battalions of infantry and a regiment of cavalry to be brought from Humaita, where he had 14,000 men inactive. From thence also came twelve pieces of 32 and 68 pounders. Lopez passed the day of the 25th in much dread of being attacked, and said that if they did not do so on that night or the following day he would have long life.

The lake was fordable here at any point. The allies naturally supposed it difficult to cross because they had not reconnoitred it. During the inactive period of the allies the Paraguayan army occupied itself in making trenches.

INUNDATION AT WHALE-POINT (QUILMES.)

To the Editors of the STANDARD.

Gentlemen—

In your valuable paper of Saturday week you stated that Quilmes was under water owing to the heavy rains and the rise of the river.

It may interest some of your readers when you add that this was not only the case with the village Quilmes, but with all the neighbouring farms, which were all more or less damaged. From Quilmes to Bella Vista, distant one league, there was but one immense lake, in which fortunately no human life was lost, but many a poor horse was drowned.

The oldest people here have never witnessed such a flood.

Yours truly.

John Parker,
(Farmer.)

ON 'CHANGE

May 28th 1870

|---|---|
| Ounces, | 400 |
| Sovereigns | 122½ |
| Patacons | 25 |
| Nat. Bonds | 67¾ |

The Bond market to-day ruled extremely firm, and prices show a gradual rise; for cash 10,000 sold at 67⅞, and in the liquidation some transactions were done at 67¾. For the 31st May there are numerous buyers, but very few sellers, only 500 sold at 67⅞; in the liquidation sales made at 68; for June 30th 30,000 sold at 68¾. One party offered to buy a large amount for this date at this rate, but there are no sellers.

The general attitude of the Bond market indicates a belief that in a few days the loan will be negotiated, and at prices much over the present rate; even supposing that the loan was done at 70, it would at once establish that rate for the stock floating in the market; but there are good reasons for supposing that the loan will be done over 70, which will have a most beneficial effect on bonds in general. The holders of bonds are willing to pay any discount rates for money rather than sell their bonds.

In the liquidation the market ruled firmer, and it was at last known that the loan would have been concluded to-day but for the illness of President Sarmiento, who was confined to bed to-day with a sore throat; on Monday it will, however be definitely closed, and we can state that there is every probability the contractor for the loan will be a well-known English firm in this city. Whatever price will be arranged for the loan will, beyond all doubt, be the market price for Bonds; holders know this, and the Bond market is to-day in the same state as the specie market some years ago, when the Oficina de Cambios was established.

Money ruled much easier to-day, some 20,000 patacons were placed at ½. 30.000 pats at ½. Don Domingo Belgrano has also placed a large amount at 1 per cent. To-day being Saturday money was in good demand, but discount brokers state that for really good paper there is no scarcity of money.

There was a large business done in Exchange to-day, the rates show no fluctuation. Bills on England were freely passed at 49¾, and on France at 5.16 and 5.18. On Rio there was something done at 365500.

The news from Entre Rios is satisfactory; the party attacking Concepcion have been routed! Almada's men have disappeared, and the total force of Jordan is known to be about 3000 cavalry. There were no telegrams to-day of importance. The Rosario line near Morcedes was cut. From Montevideo there is nothing important. Bustamante has chased Aparicio from the neighbourhood of the Cerro.

The export of wool from 1st November 1869 to date 141,828 bales; against same time last year, 128,942; showing for the present year an increase of 12,886 bales. There are now loading 6,000 for Antwerp and 4,000 for France, making a grand total of 151,828 bales this year, without including shipments from San Pedro and San Nicolas.

The collections at the Provincial Treasury office are now very large, owing to the payments of the Contribucion Directa by the owners of house property in this city. The tax this year will average fifteen millions currency: it, though high—being 4 per mil—is not felt so much, owing to the valuation of property being moderate. The largest ratepayer is Sr, Anchorena, whose Contribucion Directa tax amounts to $300,000 m|c per annum.

The steamer Saladin, from London, has arrived with a valuable cargo from that port; she leaves in ballast in a few days. The Troubadour, from London, it is feared has been lost. The Sunshine, from London, is now discharging, but some of the cargo is turning out damaged. The Ethelred, from London, arrived yesterday.

The creditors of Rivera, the owner of the Campos Elíseos, Palermo, are called upon by the court to send in their claims. The firm of Penalta and Fernandez, a country firm, is dissolved.

Mr, Jardell, the manager of the Transandine Telegraph Company, has arranged with the Central Argentine Railway for the freight on the materials now arriving from England for his telegraph line, paying twenty-five per cent less than the ordinary rates, as by the terms of the concession allowed to Government, vessels arriving at Rosario with the materials will be allowed to discharge at the Railway wharf, the same as the railway materials. This will be a great saving for the new company. Yesterday 320 shares were subscribed for; there now remain only 80 shares for the public. We notice on the share list here the best city names,

We omitted to publish the sale of the saladero at Rosario known as Urquiza's Saladoro, and at present worked by Sr, Davidson. The saladero was sold some years ago by Cabal to the English Bank for 41,000 patacons, and has been re-sold by the Bank to Don Anacharsis Lanus at reserved rates, supposed to be about 45,000 patacons. The place is rented to Davidson for 6,000 pats. per annum.

The Tycho Brahe leaves on Monday. Chevalier Peel K.C.B. will probably take a full complement of passengers.

On Monday 2,000 fine mestiza sheep will be sold by auction in the town of Mercedes; they will be sold without the least reserve, and for whatever they will fetch.

The establishment of a National Government bank at Cordoba appears now to be settled, and the Government is about to take steps for its organization. The capital of the bank, as far as we understand, will be represented in National Bonds. In a few days the particulars of this business will be laid before Congress and published. The authorities in Cordoba have promised Minister Sarsfield to give the new bank full fiscal privileges and the greatest possible support. It was said that an English firm of this city is about to send in proposals to the Government to import the capital necessary for the bank, taking the Bonds in payment, and keeping the bank for their account for 20 years. A well known Argentine firm is also largely interested in the matter.

A remarkable auction by order of the Courts is advertised for the 16th prox., comprising a valuable block of buildings at the corner of Calles Victoria and Piedras, the property of the late Doña Claudia Rodriguez, with 24½ yard front on Victoria and 23 on Piedras, besides a 'martillo' of 90 square yards. The valuation is only 1½ millions m|c, but the lot is worth much more, being 3 squares from Plaza Victoria

In another coulmn we publish a notice that the Barraca del Diablo, between the Calle Larga and Barraca bridge is to be let for a term of years.

On Monday the steamer Naposta will leave the mole at 2.30 p.m. with passengers for the Tycho Brahe.

THE WORLD GROWS WISER.

The human stomach has been a shamefully persecuted organ. There was a time when for every direliction of duty it was punished with huge doses of the most disgusting and nauseous drugs. In vain it rejected them and literally returned them upon the hands of those who administered them. They were forced upon it again and again, until its solvent power was thoroughly drenched out of it.

The world is wiser now than it was in that drastic era, when furious purgation and mercurial salivation were what Artemas Ward would have called the 'main holt' of the faculty, in cases of dyspepsia and liver complaint.

The great modern remedy for indigestion and biliousness is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a preparation which has the merit of combining a palatable flavor with such tonic, aperient and antibilious properties, as were never heretofore united in any medicine.

It has been discovered, at last, that sick people are not like the fabled Titans, who found postration so refreshing that, when knocked down, they rose from the earth twice as vigorous as before. When an invalid is prostrated by powerful depleting drugs, he is apt to stay postrated; and the debilitated being aware of the fact, prefer the building up to the knocking down system of treatment.

HOSTETTER'S BITTERS meets the requirements of the rational medicinal philosophy which at present prevails. It is a perfectly pure vegetable remedy, embracing the three important properties of a preventive, a tonic and an alterative. It fortifies the body against disease, invigorates and re-vitalizes the torpid stomach and liver, and effects a most salutary change in the entire system, when in a morbid condition.

In this country, where the enfebling temperature renders the human organization particularly susceptible to unwholesome atmospheric influences, the Bitters should be taken as a protection against epidemic desease,

CARBOLIC ACID DISINFECTING POWDER.

Carbolic Acid has long been famed for its disinfectant properties, and the Powder now offered to the Public has been duly examined and highly recommended by the Minister of the Interior of the Kingdom of Bavaria; by the Medical College of Saxony; by Professor Dr. Knop, of Leipsic, and also by Dr. Bock, and other authorities.
One Pound of this Powder, put into a Bucket of Warm Water, will prove a valuable Disinfectant Wash for either man or beast. Small quantities used, for destroying foul smells, will be found invaluable: repeating its use when it loses its power.
This Preparation is put up in Cardboard Boxes, so that by making holes in the lid it can be sprinkled in the desired place.

SAVINGS BANK
BANK MAUA AND Co.
101--Cangallo--103
BUENOS AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current we now so generally felt and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate, Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working classes in that city a safe and profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that very important institution are daily increasing, and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of clerks artizans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness, or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lottories, and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. of this city, following the noble example of their firm in Montevideo, now offer the same facilities in this city, and has opened a Savings Bank at No 103 Calle Cangallo from Nine a.m. till Three p.m. every day, for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned, Sundays an holidays excepted.

The Bank will deliver to each depositors a pass book, in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited; in the former case the interes will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. is sufficiently known to the Public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations, which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles, and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighborhood.

Buenos Ayres, 2nd January, 1867.

P. P. MAUA & Co.,

M. A. DE FREITAS AMORIM.

CONDITIONS.

First—The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty-five Dollars currency or one Silver Dollar upwards.

Second—The interest allowed is six per cent. (6 p. 0/0) per annum, which is liquidated every six months.

Third—The depositors can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.

Fourth—Once the money deposited exceeds twenty-five thousand dollars currency, or one thousand dollars silver, the depositor, if he wishes can open an account current, according to the rules established by the Bank.

Fifth—In case the depositor loses his pass book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.

De las 12 manzanas de terreno que componen la antigua quinta de Bejarano situada en la calle Independencia y Europa lindando con las quintas de los Sres. Cabral, Villagran y Letamendi que se suspendió por el mal tiempo.

De órden de su propietario.

El Domingo 29 del corriente a las doce en punto del dia se ha de rematar sin falta alguna a la mas alta postura y dinero de contado, los 36 lotes en que se ha subdividido esa gran propiedad de poco mas de un tercio de cuadra cada lote segun estan demarcados en los planos ya repartidos y que aun pueden obtenerse ocurriendo a casa del Rematador Potosi No. 70: Tienese la incomparable ventaja de estar situados a 4 cuadras del empedrado por la calle de la Caridad, dos del ramal del Ferro carril del Oeste que va a Barracas e inmediatos a la estacion del tramway que viene por Cuyo al 25 de Mayo. lo que les proporciona comunicacion rapida y barata con el centro de la ciudad. El dia designado para el remate habrá carruages frente a la casa calle de Potosi No. 70 que partirán a las diez y media en punto de la mañana para llevar a los Sres. que deseen concurrir al Remate y en la quinta estará la tienda de campaña con un lunch a la inglesa para obsequiar a los concurrentes.

MARIANO BILLINGHURST

El Lunes 30 del corriente a las 3 en punto de la tarde se ha de rematar sin falta alguna a la mas alta postura y dinero de contado 61 lotes de los terrenos arriba designados, de las marcadas en los planos que se repartirán al publico, 40 de estos lotes estan sobre la pintoresca barranca, cuya vista domina el panorama de San Isidro y San Fernando limitado por el gran estuario del Plata, fez de nácar, segun la espresion de uno de nuestros ilustres poetas.

Los grandes edificios que como por encanto se levantan en las barrancas del rio y sobre la calle Libertad y la que va a la recoleta, dan a aquella localidad una importancia que en union con la preferencia de que goza el Norte, sobre el Sud de la ciudad hacen ventiladas e higienicas para vivir.

El tramway proximo ya a funcionar en este mes les pone a las puertas por un infimo precio.
